Functional Recovery Questionnaire

Instructions

This questionnaire is divided into two parts to reflect the roles involved.

Questionnaire roles are:

Administrator: Person(s) responsible for gathering and documenting information about the building using this questionnaire.

Respondent: Person(s) knowledgeable about the building, including the general nature of the earthquake damage, how the intended function has been impacted, and the status of repairs (if applicable).

The questionnaire is organized as follows:

Part 1 consists of questions expected to be answered by the respondent. The administrator is responsible for documenting the respondent's responses, which may be verbally communicated.

Part 2 consists of questions expected to be both answered and documented by the administrator.
